FINED FOR GAMBLING

Claimed That It Was His Own Private House and Appealed.

THE CIRCUIT COURT MEETS

Two Decrees Were Entered and Argument Commenced in an Injunction.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
PETERSBURG, Va., June 20.—Judge Walter A. Watson held the Circuit Court in this city to-day, which was his first appearance on the bench in this city. Two decrees were entered, one dismissing the suit of the Norfolk and Western Railway against W. S. McCance and the other for an account in the case of Edwards and wife against J. W. Temple, who recently removed to this city. Argument was begun this afternoon on a motion to dissolve an injunction secured by John W. Richardson, of Suffolk, against the Camp Manufacturing Company, and R. Buterworth. The case was removed to Petersburg from Dinwiddie county, and involves the cutting of certain timber.

FINED FOR GAMBLING.
Lewis Sheffield, charged with keeping a gambling house, and several young men were charged with gambling. The minimum fine of $50 was imposed on Sheffield and the young men were fined $25 each.

The police made a raid on the alleged gambling house about 2 o'clock Sunday morning in a room in Sheffield's private residence in Blandford. He testified that he and several of his friends were shooting craps, but that it was his home and that he did not know the room for the purpose of gambling; that for six weeks he has been working in Richmond and comes home every Saturday night.

Sheffield, through his counsel, James M. Quicke, Jr., took an appeal and the case was certified to the Supreme Court.

NEW POSITION.
Mr. Lewis Baxter, who for the past six months has filled the position of assistant cutter and traveling salesman for Mr. James M. Quicke, tailor, of this city, has accepted a position of assistant manager of Kahn Brothers' large tailoring establishment in Shreveport.

Dr. Taylor, of the First Baptist Church, delivered a very instructive and interesting address before the Methodist Sunday School Association at Market Street Church yesterday on the subject, "The Opportunities of the Sunday School Teacher." The total registration of scholars in the Sunday school of this city is 2,500 and the average Sunday attendance for the past month was 2,300.

McGee, R. Buterworth and Brother, of DeWitt, in Dinwiddie county, are said to have sold a tract of 2,500 acres of timber land in that county, near Ordsburg. It is estimated to contain 150,000 feet of timber and the price paid is $2,000. The land is not included in the sale.

PYRITES MINING.

Company to Change Business Name—New Enterprise.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
MINERAL, Va., June 20.—In the year 1894, the mines of iron pyrites and copper, situated near Mineral, Louisa county, Va., which had then for some years been known as the James copper mines, were taken over by New York capitalists with the intention of putting up chemical works.

On account of heavy rates of freight charges by the railroads, and for other sufficient reasons, the parties found it more to their interest to raise and sell the pyrites than to run chemical works; and now, having abandoned the idea of putting up an operating plant, they have decided to change their business name from "Arminius Chemical Company" to "Arminius Mines," under which latter name the business here conducted of mining and shipping pyrites will hereafter be done.

In the year of 1890, there was considerable interest manifested on part of the promoters of the then "Mineral City" boom, to erect and work at Mineral, Va., and utilize the product of the various mines in this vicinity, but the project was not carried out, and the position as that of the Arminius Chemical Company in 1894.

It is said that the Moore property, near here, has recently been sold to capitalists, who expect to put in machinery for the purpose of mining pyrites.

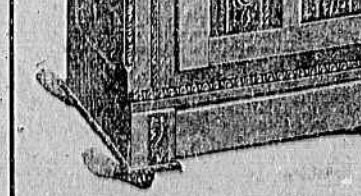

The citizens of Mineral are very enthusiastic over the prospect of moving the county courthouse from Louisa, Va., to Mineral, Va.

Fatal Affray.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
WYTHEVILLE, Va., June 20.—At a negro festival near Graham Chapel Saturday night, Eugene Howard shot and instantly killed Randolph Davis, another negro. Richard Curtis in attempting to take a pistol from a brother of Davis, was accidentally shot through the groin and dangerously wounded. Howard claims to have acted in self-defense. The accused was sent on to the grand jury.

TERRIBLE INSECT PEST IN HIGHLAND

The Dreaded Rose Bug Makes Its Annual Appearance and Is Very Destructive.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
MONTGOMERY, Va., June 20.—The rose bug, which has during recent years become a terrible pest and scourge in Highland county, has made its annual appearance, and the unequal warfare between the fruit grower and this countless army of destructive insects is on. As a result, perhaps, of the cold, late season, these pests were overdue, and hope is entertained that their stay will be shorter and the territory covered less extensive than usual.

So much dreaded are they by Highland people and so familiar have become with their habits and customs, that the presence at a known point is first anticipated, and the progress of their march and spread can be calculated with remarkable accuracy.

"The rose-bug comes the first of June. The June-bug comes in May. The bed-bug takes his banquet off in April. I've come to stay!" And so says the average Highlander who does not have to recall in order to refresh his memory as to the time when this destroyer with the awful make his appearance, and the promptness of his approach makes his approach with the first warm days of the month of roses. With Highland people his name of "rose-bug" is little short of a nightmare. He has witnessed the sphere of action until everything in the line of small fruit has become his prey, and in some communities, grapes, plums, damsons and peaches are luxuries which are only enjoyed by a few who resort to the greatest painstaking and most persistent warfare during their destructive reign.

A Highland man who recently made a visit to Warren county, upon inquiry learned that the rose-bug was unknown in that county and it is so in many other places. Hence the wonder here, "from whence do they come, and whither go?" Do they hibernate or migrate? If so, from whence to where, whither?

Mr. S. Sullenberger, one of the oldest and most observing citizens who recalls the no distant past when their depredations were confined to the roses, informs your correspondent that some ten years ago he chanced to be along the little stream north of town, known as Burner's Run, when he discovered what he chose to designate a "den" of these insects. He first noticed some on the leaves of a scrub oak, and observing still greater quantities on the trunk of the tree, he became interested and carried the investigation until he discovered millions of them issuing from a huge stone-pile between the banks of the creek. He saw no trace of them elsewhere, but the following day they made their appearance on Cemetery Hill, from which elevation they swooped down upon the village, and it is a noteworthy fact that the bugs invariably approach from that direction year after year.

The only successful method of combating them is the troublesome and expensive one of welling the vines and small trees with insect powders have no terrors for them, and no process of fumigation or spraying is effective, one sower of the county having killed a fine young orchard of peach trees in an effort to poison the bugs.

V. M. I. FINAL EXERCISES

The Military Manoeuvres Were the Chief Feature of the Day.

CELEBRATE ALUMNI DAY

A TERRIFIC STORM IN MADISON COUNTY

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
TWIN BROOKS, Md., June 20.—One of the most terrific storms of many years passed over this section yesterday. It was about noon, and stormed almost continuously until night.

The lightning was fearful and great quantities of hail also fell. Lightning struck Dr. E. W. Twyman's large barn, damaging the top very much, killed a cow for Mr. C. D. Twyman, struck a number of trees and other things. The wheat crop, just ripe for harvest, was blown down considerably and right much injured.

Mr. Joe Tucker cut the first wheat Saturday. A number of other farmers were to begin harvesting this morning, but the storm will prevent.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

A WHIPPING FOR A YOUNG TRAIN WRECKER

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
SUFFOLK, Va., June 20.—Harry Lacy, the twelve-year-old boy, the train-wrecker, at 3 o'clock this afternoon was given twenty-one stripes across his back with a rawhide. The whipping came off at the Mayor's office, City Hall, administered by the boy's father.

Harry Lacy last week put wood on the Suffolk and Carolina Railroad tracks, shortly before the coming of a passenger train, and a disaster was averted only by the alertness of the engineer. The boy confessed, and said he hid in the bushes to see what would happen.

Two Years for Manslaughter.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
NEWPORT NEWS, Va., June 20.—Alban Jones, a married sailor, who stabbed and killed his fellow countryman, Carl Ollansen, aboard the schooner Massicot here, two months ago, was found guilty of voluntary manslaughter in the Corporation Court to-day, and given two years in the penitentiary. There were no eye-witnesses to the killing, except a drunken sailor, who could remember little of what happened. The accused claimed that Ollansen attacked him.

AN AMERICAN PRODUCT.

Scores Another Great Victory in Germany. Prof. Dr. Lintner, Director of the "Scientific Station for the Study of Industrial Hygiene" at Munich, upon analyzing "Pilsner Urquell," the beer of the "Bayerische Brauhaus," of Pilsen, Bohemia, has pronounced "Budweiser" a well-matured bottled beer of the highest quality. This acknowledgment, coming as it does from the recognized headquarters of the brewing industry of the old world, must be a great source of gratification and a measure of compensation to the Anheuser-Busch people for their unceasing efforts to produce the finest beer that can be made.

JOHN GOODE SICK IN ROOM

Virginia's Grand Old Man May Have to Forego His Engagements.

CENTENNIAL OF CHURCH

United States Weather Bureau to Largely Improve Its Coast Telegraph Service This Fall.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
NORFOLK, Va., June 20.—Mr. John Goode, of Bedford, "Virginia's Grand Old Man," has been confined for the past week to his room in the home of his daughter, Mrs. William T. Brooke, where he is visiting. His condition offers no hope for immediate improvement, and it is feared that his indisposition may continue for some days. His illness will interfere with some of his appointments to speak. Mr. Goode will be awarded on Thursday the degree of LL. D. at William and Mary College, Williamsburg, but he will be unable to accept it in person.

WEATHER SERVICE.
The United States Weather Bureau will make improvements next fall to its telegraph service between Norfolk and Hatteras that will cost in one neighborhood of $5,000. The appropriation for the work has been authorized and the money will be available July 1st, but it has been decided to delay operations until September because the work can be carried on with less interruption and to better advantage at that season of the year. To complete the improvements will require about two months.

CHURCH CENTENNIAL.

Yesterday was the one hundredth anniversary of Providence Christian Church, it having been organized in 1804 with Rev. N. P. Tatem as pastor. Here is where the delegates from the various churches of Tidewater Virginia met in 1817 and formed a union which afterwards became what is now known as the Eastern Virginia Christian Conference.

This is one of the oldest churches in Norfolk county and is situated four miles from Norfolk, on the Great Bridge Road.

DISCONTINUANCES STRIKERS.

Justice Taylor discontinuances interference on the part of the marine firemen, in whose ranks a strike exists at present, by a decision rendered this morning.

FARMER ASSAULTED.

John Shea, well-to-do farmer of Scott's Creek, was the victim of a murderous assault at the hands of a gang of highway robbers early Sunday morning. Shea had been to town and made purchases of clothing and other articles, and boarded the last car out. He had gotten near his home and was crossing a field, when he was attacked by five men, who beat him into an unconscious state, after which they robbed him of his money, clothing and other articles.

Shea was unable to identify any of the parties who assaulted him.

WIND AND HAIL.

Much Damage Done and Winchester Streets Inundated.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
WINCHESTER, Va., June 20.—Winchester and adjacent sections were visited yesterday afternoon by a violent wind and rain-storm. Many large trees were broken off and garden fruit was ruined. The waters swiftly rose and the Town Run appeared as a roaring torrent, inundating Water Street, filling the cellars and doing in upon some of the houses. In the county a number of places were struck by lightning, including Hunter-Barn, which was struck by a bolt which killed a cow. In some instances groves of trees were twisted off at the ground, and it is feared that much fruit was blown from trees. Corn was liberally sliced by hail, and both wheat and corn blown down.

Our Electric Stitoner

sews a tighter seam and better than the hand. It has a clamp that holds the cloth firmly to the welt, and uses a smallawl and larger thread, which fills up the awl hole tight. The thread is waxed so it sews with a liquid hot wax, which cements the stitch in place. When the cobbler sews by hand he uses a largeawl so that he can sew easily and not hurt his hands when he pulls at the stitch, and makes a longer stitch so he can get through quicker, but which does not last.
